Pin me to the fridge so you don't forget

Did you know one in three pets are at risk of getting sick or worse because their owners accidentally share human foods and drinks that are toxic to dogs and cats?

At Southern Cross Pet Insurance, we've made it our mission to help all NZ pets live longer, happier and healthier lives which is why we're launching the Paws Off! warning symbol.

It's kind of like the don't-drink-alcohol-when-pregnant symbol or the one keeping children out of reach of dangerous objects, but for pets.

We need your help. If you know somebody who loves pets as much as we do, and sells something that pets shouldn't eat or drink, share Paws Off! with them on social media, or send them to PAWSOFF.CO.NZ.

Help us change the face of pet food safety forever.
